

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a composition for treating a keratinous material, preferably the hair, comprising, a cosmetically acceptable medium, at least one of protective and conditioning agent, and at least one hydroxycarboxylic acid, or a salt thereof. These combinations make it possible to improve the deposition of the agent for protecting or conditioning a keratinous material, and also the cosmetic properties.

481631_1.DOC